UTAR Perak Campus, being an award-winning campus after receiving the 'Pertubuhan Akitek Malaysia' (PAM) Gold Award 2013 for the education category this year, has attracted visitors not only from all over the country but also those from across the causeway, Singapore. This was evident when 41 architectural students from the Department of Architecture, National University of Singapore (NUS) made their way to visit the scenic campus on 27 September 2013.

The group from NUS, led by Assoc Prof Cheah Kok Ming, Assoc Prof Tse Swee Ling, and Dr Abel Tablada, was accompanied by Head of UTAR Department of Architecture & Sustainable Design Dr Lim Poh Im, several faculty members and The Architectural Network (tAN) founding principal architect Ar Chow Yeut Keong. They were cordially welcomed by Director of the Division of Community and International Networking Dr Tan Sin Leng, who happily shared an overview of UTAR and its six-year-old Perak Campus with the first-time visitors.

When asked to share some thoughts about the avant-garde architectures at Perak Campus, Cheah said, "I was one of the jury members who was privileged to study the plans and examine the design idea of this campus. I was truly impressed and that made me want to bring my architectural students here to experience the actual learning environment."

"All buildings here, the library, the faculty buildings and others, are of modern contemporary architecture. The Grand Hall which was built at the second phase is an exception," said Ar Chow, who was referring to the stately Dewan Tun Dr Ling Liong Sik, and also explained that the hall was designed to look iconic and at the same, able to reflect the identity of the University.

The ingenious architect then led the visitors on a guided campus tour, where he shared with the lecturers and 41 budding architects the inspiration behind his award winning designs and the functions of certain sustainable building features.

Student Thilaga Ramakrishna added that the UTAR Perak Campus is a pleasant and environmental friendly campus.

The students, parents, teachers and guests from the secondary school enjoyed a fun-filled and informative itinerary which started with a sumptuous lunch treat at the Grand Kampar Hotel.

In his opening address, Tun Ling expressed his hope that parents of the students, who are mainly Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia (SPM) candidates, would consider enrolling their children in UTAR for further education. He also expressed appreciation towards the benefactors who have contributed to UTAR and to the betterment of society.

The follow-up activities were talks and presentations by UTAR staff to enlighten the students, parents, and teachers on the UTAR programmes, admission requirements, financial aids, Q&A session, career guidance workshop and free consultations during the healthcare talk on Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Tomorrow's way of reading

“Education in the future will provide transformation, not [just] enhancement,” said Taiwan National Central University Chair Professor Chan Tak Wai at Tomorrow's Reading Workshop held by UTAR Centre for Extension Education (CEE) at UTAR Petaling Jaya Campus on 15 August 2013.

Prof Chan was one of the five workshop presenters. The others, all from Da Lun Elementary School, were Principal Chen Jiu Jung, Section Chief Wang Chia Chen, and school teachers Lu Chun Chiao and Wang Tzu Wen.

“We should focus on the outcome-last learning instead of outcome-first learning, as adopted in the ‘modelled sustained silent reading’ (MSSR) method which emphasises on students’ interest, rather than results,” added Prof Chan, proposing the use of MSSR method in schools in the future. He said that elementary schools in Taiwan that used MSSR method had found it to be effective.

The workshop continued with Section Chief Wang sharing the school's experience in training and sending their teachers to National Central University to learn about MSSR method, and collaborating with parents in the collection of reading materials.

Attending the workshop, from UTAR, were Vice President

(Internationalisation and Academic Development) Prof Dr Ewe Hong Tat, CEE Director Lim Guat Yen, Division of Community and International Networking Director Dr Tan Sin Leng, Centre for Learning and Teaching Chairperson Er Pek Hoon and academic staff Dr Lee Jer Vui.

Dynamic power of thoughts

“Our minds can affect other people, and that is why positive thinking is very important,” said Ng Thian Watt in his two-hour talk titled ‘Dynamic Power of Thoughts’ at UTAR Petaling Jaya Campus on 14 September 2013, which was organised by UTAR Centre for Extension Education (CEE).

Ng (right) greeting the crowd at the beginning of the talk

Ng, a past president of the Malaysian Association of Professional Speakers, who refers himself as the success inspirer of Quantum Dynamic Human Development, touched on the work of Japanese scientist Dr Masaru Emoto and biologist Dr Bruce Lipton who proved that thoughts, words, and feelings are able to affect physical reality.

“We have three brains, which are the reptilian, mammalian, and human brains,” said Ng referring to the levels we could use our brain. He added, “Many people do not do well because they seldom think, thus, their human brain is not often exercised.”

Healthcare industry experts share experience

To expose its students to the latest developments in the healthcare support industry, UTAR Faculty of Engineering Science (FES) Department of Mechatronics and Biomedical Engineering (DMBE), in collaboration with Johnson Medical International Sdn Bhd, had organised a series of talks from 17 July to 7 August 2013, where experts from the industry were invited to share their experiences.

The first speaker in the series was Jurutera Perunding Technique Sdn Bhd Director Ir Yaacob Ali, who has more than 35 years of experience in designing mechanical services for many hospitals in Malaysia. He shared his role as a Biomedical Engineer during the planning, construction and operational stages of a hospital in two talks titled ‘Installation and Maintenance of Hospital Facilities’ and ‘Air-Conditioning and Mechanical Ventilation System in Healthcare Environment’.

IED Sdn Bhd Managing Director Ir Lim Kim Ten, an active member of the Malaysian standards writing committee in SIRIM, presented on ‘Electrical Power Supply: Requirements, Standards and Regulations’.

The last talk of this series, ‘Principle of Safety and Risk Management’, was delivered by Johnson Medical International Sdn Bhd Senior Quality Assurance Manager Tang Keng Yuan, who is involved in the medical equipment and risk assessment industry for nearly 30 years. He shared his experience with the students on how to identify, manage and prevent risks in a healthcare environment.

The student participants were enlightened by the industry experts and participated actively during the Q&A sessions. The success of this series of talks has motivated the Department of Mechatronics and Biomedical Engineering to organise more such activities in future to foster closer ties with the industry.

To date, UTAR has succeeded in collaborating with 92 local and foreign universities in Asean region, Australia, Canada, China, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Mexico, Poland, South Korea, Taiwan, United Kingdom and the US. Such collaborations have enhanced the UTAR brand through networking in international cross-cultural and cross-disciplinary activities such as student and staff overseas exchanges, educational tours and visits and joint research.

In keeping the momentum on global outreach, UTAR delegates led by Council Chairman, Tun Dr Ling Liong Sik and UTAR President Ir Prof Academician Dato Dr Chuah Hean Teik visited East Africa in July 2013 and Taiwan in October 2013 to explore further collaborations, identify partnership opportunities while enhancing ties with current partners.

Highlights of the East African visit

The East African visit has been most fruitful with UTAR scoring many firsts especially in the signing of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoUs) with the Technical University of Mombasa (TUM) in Kenya and the Tanzanian universities of Ardhi University and University of Dar es Salaam. The three universities lauded UTAR as the most ideal partner with its proven achievements especially in the areas of science, technology, engineering and management that are essentials to advance progress in a developing continent like Africa.

Tun Ling at the signing of the MoU with TUM had remarked on UTAR's possible role in helping the local universities to develop human capital for development in Africa. He added that UTAR's global initiatives are primarily to provide its students with the equal opportunity of studying at Kenya and other countries. It would give international dimension to the UTARian learning and teaching and sharpens students' awareness of their peers overseas.

The key activities in the itinerary included the active sharing of ideas, one of which is the implementation of UTAR Soft Skills Development Certificate (USSDC) programme presented at the United States of International University (USIU) in Nairobi, visits to Tanzania's Institute of Finance Management (IFM) and the pioneer private medical university, the Hubert Kairuki Memorial University (HKMU).

A feather in cap was UTAR's social responsibility to the African community as shown by the delegation's supportive visit to the Tana River Life Foundation, a charitable non-governmental organisation set up by a Malaysian named Gabriel Teo, and introducing mental literacy to the students of TUM and Garsen High School. West Wong Woon Chieng, an alumnus of UTAR and the bronze winner in the 2012 World Mental Olympics had accompanied the delegation on the trip to help to give talks to inspire the students, together with Anant Kasibhatla, the Indian national record holder for memory.

5-day visit to Taiwan universities

Two months after the visit by the Taiwan delegation of 12 universities led by its Minister of Education, Dr Chiang Wei-ling to UTAR on 27 July 2013, UTAR reciprocated with a similar visit to Taiwan beginning 13 October to 17 October 2013.

The UTAR delegation led by Council Chairman, Tun Dr Ling Liong Sik and UTAR President Ir Prof Academician Dato' Dr Chuah Hean Teik aimed at strengthening the relationships that had already been established with some of the major Taiwan universities besides exploring new ones.

During the visit, UTAR signed a joint MoU with National Yang-Ming University and University System of Taiwan. UTAR and National Yang-Ming University will join hands in collaborative academic activities on medical and health sciences and on collaborations that included welcoming adjunct professors to UTAR. UTAR will also team up with University System of Taiwan in areas like engineering, health sciences, arts and social science, creative industries and management. Another MoU was signed with National Taipei University of Technology incorporating staff and student exchanges as well as R&D collaborations. The MoA (Memorandum of Agreement) exchange between UTAR and National Chiao Tung University included collaborations on student exchanges for postgraduate studies. Postgraduate students of both universities are allowed to utilise the research facilities at either universities for R&D purposes. To date, UTAR has forged formal collaborations with over 25 Taiwan universities including National Tsing Hua University, I-Shou University and others.

Alumni reunite in grand homecoming

Once a Utarian, forever a Utarian. It was this philosophy that led Low Way Hong, a UTAR alumnus, to attend the UTAR Alumni Homecoming Dinner which was held on 17 August 2013 at Grand Kampar Hotel in Kampar, Perak. "I believe that there is a special connection between a person and the university that he or she comes from," said Low a UTAR Bachelor of Accounting (Hons) graduate who is currently working as an auditor in Kuala Lumpur.

Echoing Low's sentiments was Esther Teh Theng Yinn who graduated from UTAR with Bachelor of Arts (Hons) Public Relations in 2006. Teh, who is currently working with a consultancy firm in Kuala Lumpur, never fails to attend the annual alumni get-together after her graduation. Their steadfastness was rewarded that night as both were called to the stage, along with other regular attendees, to receive a token of appreciation for their continuous support.

In his opening address, UTAR Vice President for R&D and Commercialisation Prof Ir Dr Lee Sze Wei said, "I hope that through this dinner, the bond between UTAR and its alumni will grow from strength to strength." He expressed hope that the alumni would continue to uphold UTAR's reputation through their actions and accomplishments.

Adding to the merriment were the enthralling performances by UTAR students, alumni and guest entertainers which included an inspiring Taiji Rouli Qiu performance by Wan Meng Kit, a UTAR student in psychology, a dazzling ballet dance by Jackelyn De Alwis ( a Foundation student ) and the solo performances by alumnus Fan Ya Fu and an advertising student; Ooi Wen Lih

There were also a sentimental sketch, UTAR dance club performance and lucky draw sessions. UTAR staff Wong Pooi Mun, walked away with the grand prize of a 32-inch Samsung LED television set.

The UTAR Alumni Homecoming Dinner is an annual affair organised by UTAR Department of Alumni Relations and Placement.

Life is meaningful

"As long as you are alive, everything is possible," said Ho Sheau Ahuey, a student counsellor at UTAR Department of Student Affairs, to UTAR students attending the UTAR Counselling and Wellness week held from 30 July to 2 August 2013.

The UTAR Counselling and Wellness Week is an annual campaign which aims to create greater awareness among students on various challenges and obstacles in life, as well as the benefits of counselling and guidance services provided by the University. This year's campaign, themed 'Meaningful Life', was the third consecutive one organised by the Counselling Unit of the department.

Ho added that the campaign aimed to bring across the message that counselling was not only for mentally affected people but for everyone. This year's campaign saw counsellors from Xiao En Group giving their support with a series of workshops on positive mental attitude towards life. The campaign also showcased talks, exhibitions, games, and a movie titled 'The Five People You Meet in Heaven.'

"This counselling and wellness week is beneficial to everyone,"

Community at Heart

We-Care-We-Act (WCWA)

• New Community Project continues

This issue of UTAR Horizon reports the WCWA activities carried out in Matang, Bidor, Ipoh and Chemor.

SRJK (C) Khea Hwa, Matang - Beautifying the School

The Department of Soft Skill Competency (DSSC) staff with 10 UTAR students went on a half-day trip to SRJK (C) Khea Hwa Matang, Taiping on 6 July 2013.

These students were volunteers in the WCWA project to lead the schoolchildren in beautifying their school surroundings.

UTAR students guided the schoolchildren to work together in cleaning the school compound and in painting meaningful images with inspirational quotes on the school walls. These activities of "learning and doing together" nurtured the bond between the volunteers and the schoolchildren and ultimately help to instill the values of togetherness and co-operation for all parties.

SJK (C) Tanah Mas, Bidor & SJK (C) Pasir Pinji 1, Ipoh - Learning English

On 3 August 2013, 28 WCWA volunteers, led by DSSC staff, spent their Saturday meaningfully by teaching English to SJK (C) Pasir Pinji 1. The volunteers conducted a three-hour English language training workshop to different groups of school children from the primary classes of standard three to six. The training consisted of lessons on listening, speaking, reading and writing.

Changkat Kinding, Chemor - Farming

Twenty-five UTAR students spent the Saturday constructively learning how to harvest limes and other crops such as vegetables on 17 August 2013 in Changkat Kinding, Chemor.

The orchard owner, Wong Chin Siang guided the students on an educational tour of the lime orchard. He explained to the students on the different types of lime plants and taught them the manual harvesting of the ripe limes. In addition, the students learnt about planting vegetables and helped manually to clear the weeds around the vegetable crops.

The active participation of UTAR students in the farming project helped them appreciate the hard work of farm living. The experiences also opened their eyes to the need of caring and helping the villagers to have a better life.

中华研究院新任院长张晓威访谈录

在何启良老师卸下中华研究院院长一职后，张晓威老师于9月1日正式走马上任，成为中华研究院新任院长。张晓威老师毕业于台北国立政治大学历史学系博士班，研究兴趣为近代中国的商人与政治、英殖民时期的马来亚华人社会、张弼士研究、东南亚客家社会与文化等。从2005年加入拉曼大学后，张晓威老师一直服务至今。

张老师有感中华研究院的设立实属难能可贵。在前任院长的努力经营之下，把中华研究院打造成国内知名的学术单位之一，并成功推动和举办了许多学术性的活动和研究计划。张老师感激前任院长的贡献与付出，同时希望利用现有的资源，继续栽培更多教学以及研究人才，以回馈社会。张老师也希望继续举办相关的学术活动，例如主办国际或国内学术研讨会、研究生论坛、学术讲座、学术工作坊等，除了促进学术交流，亦提供学术人员及研究生有发表成果的平台，同时尚可激发同学们的思维方式。此外，张老师也希望研究生学会以及毕业生协会，在推动院内的学术

研究和发面，继续给予支持与协助。

在未来3到5年内，中华研究院有望可以达到师资皆拥有博士学位的目标。这无论在教学或研究方面，都可达到事半功倍的成效，而学生也将获益匪浅。张老师希望师生可合作开发新研究领域或新课题，让学术研究源源不绝地发展下去，让研究更加多元化。张老师举例适逢明年2014年是马中建交40周年，这一课题尚有许多值得研究和开拓的空间，希望有兴趣的师生可以作进一步的研究。在课程方面，张老师亦指出会根据市场的需求来设计，例如在未来可能设计一些新的课程，以符合业界的需求，继而提升中华研究院毕业生的就业率。此外，拉曼大学中文系也吸引了友族以及国际学生，这也证明了其价值受到肯定。

张老师坦言在担任院长后，行政方面的工作量无疑增多了，但张老师依然希望除了行政工作和教学之外，尚能继续抽出时间阅读、做研究以及撰写论文，以便能沉浸在学术研究的氛围里。虽然公务繁忙，张老师也不忘

关心学生，叮咛学生早点完成学业，在课业或生活上遇到瓶颈时多与老师聊聊，解决问题。

追求自我增值之际，亦逐步实现弘扬中华文化的使命

庄兴亮 (CHNG XING LIANG)

拉曼大学中文系一等荣誉学士

香港理工大学中国文化学系博士研究生 (The Hong Kong Polytechnic University International Postgraduate Scholarship for PhD Study, 2013-)

庄兴亮校长、香港理工大学香港孔子学系讲座教授朱鸿林先生合影。

早在2008年本科后期，我对香港高等学府和其学术环境已开始关注。随着本身对所研究的领域有更多的了解后，则进一步深化我对香港学术及学者的认识。尤其对香港高等学府中特有的自由开放、兼容并包的环境十分之神往。香港社会本身固有的华洋荟聚，背靠中国大陆、面向国际社会的特色，更是有利于研究人员视野的拓展。香港的学术研究水平极高，提供的奖学金待遇也优厚；因此，2013年7月有幸荣获“香港理工大学国际博士研究生奖学金”，来到香港从学于专攻中国近世历史与文化的知名汉学家朱鸿林教授，感恩的同时，还得特别感谢所有在成长路上悉心给予过我指点和支持的师长。

关于一路走来的学习心路历程，我想用胡适先生的一句话来表达切身的感受，“不怕他真理无穷，进一寸有一寸的欢喜。”个人很喜欢英文Research这个词，觉得它对于“研究”做了十分恰切的诠释。而正是在这种不懈的search和research上下求索之中，我们会自然找到了一种得以“安静守护心灵”的最佳方式。

目前主要就是要专心、静心学习，把研究做好，充分利用香港这里的学术资源，好好地充实自己。未

来的期许呢，则如台湾一位研究中国史的老前辈所言，“现代的中国学者应该有两套本领，一方面要写学报论文，了解国际学术界的行情，与他们并驾齐驱；一方面要继承传统，学习古人从历史中学习历史人物的经世致用经验、出处抉择之道、成败得失的教训，并能将心得用于实务上，用于日常生活的为人处世，如此，历史学才是有用之学，才不致沦于‘玩物丧志’。”

即时那么多年过去了，对于母校拉曼大学那些用心教学、无私为学生着想的老师们，我心里还是充满感激的。犹记得老师们在课堂里、白板上的许多“经典话语”，始终历历在目。正是中文系老师的缘故，让我才会发觉原来学术研究可以是那么生动有趣的。即便那已是相隔千年，甚至地隔数万里的往事，在老师们的引领下，身处海外的我们还是可以有机会对中国历史与传统文化展开另一类不同面向的探视。

最后，我也衷心希望更多的学弟学妹能够勇敢地走在学术研究的路上，择己所好，爱己所选。从追求学问的路上邂逅更多良师益友，由埋头专研的过程中寻得新的人生坐标；在享受自我不断增值的同时，亦实现弘扬中华文化的使命。

本校中医系主任郑建强博士、司晓晨教授、唐雪梅客座教授、吴南民副教授和张树剑客座教授一行五人于9月3日前往霹雳中华医院，与霹雳中华医院院长幸镜清名老中医、副院长丘鑑興医师、总务张建生医师及财政赖美莲医师等十余位同仁展开学术交流。

司晓晨教授与郑建强博士表示，霹雳中医师公会为大马乃至东南亚中医药事业的传承与发展作出了很大的努力。同时也为周边居民的健康提供了很多咨询和帮助，他们普救慈航的表现实在值得钦敬。

霹雳中医师公会会长丘鑑興医师表示，希望未来能与拉曼大学中医系密切合作，更建议拉曼大学中医系的讲师支持中华医院的义诊工作。

交流会尾声，双方互赠纪念品。会后，中医系讲师众员参观了中华医院，并拜访了大马著名针灸教育家、临床医师幸镜清先生。87
